

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

January 15, 2020

Contact:

Roland Lewis, President and CEO, 212.935.9831 x101, rlewis@waterfrontalliance.org

Alison Simko, Public Relations, 917.929.8375, asimko@waterfrontalliance.org

Comedian and Climate Activist Chuck Nice Joins Waterfront Alliance Board of Trustees

New York, NY—The Waterfront Alliance has welcomed Chuck Nice to its board of trustees. A self-confessed science geek, Mr. Nice is an activist masquerading as a comedian who uses his quick wit and warm personality to rally his audience around the most pressing issues of our time: climate change.

The Waterfront Alliance—the region’s leading waterfront advocate—is a coalition of more than 1,100 partners working together to inspire and effect resilient, revitalized, and accessible coastlines for all communities. Guided by its diverse, effective board of trustees, the organization advocates for a resilient region that is adapted to the reality of sea level rise and increased coastal storms, among other notable work to advance waterfront access and equity, the working waterfront, and public understanding of the waterfront.

“Chuck will be an important advocate and advisor for the Waterfront Alliance,” said Chris Ward, chair of the board of trustees. “Climate crisis and sea level rise are undeniable, and with the guidance of our board, we are working hard to motivate people to take action toward adaptation. Many thanks to Chuck for committing his time, ideas, and resources to the Waterfront Alliance.”

Chuck Nice is a 19-year veteran of stand-up comedy with a rich history in both entertainment and climate activism. He has worked across all mediums, including radio, television, and podcasts. Recently, Mr. Nice appeared in “The Week Of” with Adam Sandler and Chris Rock, and delivered a TED Talk on the main stage of the Vancouver conference, about the unintended consequence of future tech and human interaction. He is the co-host of Star Talk with Dr. Neil deGrasse Tyson on Nat Geo. Mr. Nice has also hosted How to Buy Like Mega Millionaire and Home Strange Home on HGTV. He is a regular contributor to the Today Show, has guest hosted The View, and he is a frequent guest on MSNBC, CNN, and HLN. Other credits include: host of Price This Place on HGTV, VH-1’s Best Week Ever, TRU TV’s World’s Dumbest, The Katie Couric Show, Bethany, The Meredith Viera Show, The Juice on Veria Living, The Better Show, Vh-1’s 40 Greatest, Black to the Future, Undatable, 100 Greatest Songs of 00’s, The Hot Ten on Centric, WE TV’s Cinematherapy, That’s So House Hunters, the red carpet pre-show for the Independent Spirit Awards and host of “Is It True?” on Discovery. Despite his busy schedule, he still makes time to regularly perform at New York City comedy clubs. Mr. Nice is currently busy preparing to launch the world's first digital youth climate summit, "Shh...It's Real!"

"As we witness the ever-encroaching ravages of the Human-Caused Climate Crisis (H3C), the vital work of the Waterfront Alliance cannot be overstated," said Mr. Nice. "It's an honor to assist the Alliance and its more than 1,100 partners in their efforts to protect and revitalize the thousands of miles of coastline in the New York–New Jersey metropolitan region and help achieve a greater awareness of how we can effectively address this existential challenge."

The Waterfront Alliance inspires and effects resilient, revitalized, and accessible coastlines for all communities, and warmly welcomes Mr. Nice to its board of trustees.

###